BOSTON FINANCIAL HIRES VP OF RETIREMENT RECORDKEEPING SALES

QUINCY, Mass., June 6, 2008 - Gregg Suffredini has joined the retirement recordkeeping sales team at Boston Financial as vice president. Formerly with Sungard's benefit systems division, Suffredini will be responsible for developing new retirement plan recordkeeping and administration business for Boston Financial Data Services and DST Systems, Inc.

Boston Financial provides outsourcing solutions to the retirement industry, utilizing DST's retirement recordkeeping platform, TRAC®. Together, Boston Financial and DST offer flexible technology and service options designed to meet the varied needs of financial services providers competing in the defined contribution marketplace.

"Gregg's experience working on the technology side of the retirement recordkeeping business is a real asset as we continue to build our presence in the retirement services sector," said Jude Metcalfe, senior vice president, Boston Financial. "We're excited to have him represent and promote the value of the TRAC platform and Boston Financial's service offering."

TRAC services nearly 5 million participants, supporting all major investment products and plan types, including 401(k)s and 403(b)s. Financial services providers with business on the platform, including mutual fund firms, insurance companies, banks and third party administrators, represent $85 billion worth of assets.

"I look forward to helping our clients grow their retirement businesses," said Suffredini. "By supporting new products and providing tailored outsourcing solutions, Boston Financial and DST are positioned to help financial services providers succeed in today's highly competitive, dynamic market."
